

Question: What are the different metaphors that have been used like the "information processing metaphor" to understand the functioning of the human mind? Describe in detail ANY ONE of these and critically comment upon its appropriateness and usefulness in furthering our understanding the story of cognition.

Answer the question in under 1000 words. You are free to consult any books, journal articles, material on the internet as long as you are NOT PLAGIARISING. submitted answer sheets are generally subjected to a plagiarism check and acceptable limit is below 10%.

There are 10 marks allocated for this assignment.